Background

Line managers have a key role to play in the successful implementation of an effective Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) management system. However, to enable them to fulfill their responsibilities it is essential that they are provided with suitable training.

This program will inform our line managers of their duties and responsibilities, both legally and within your own management system. In addition it will provide them with the tools and skills necessary to carry out those responsibilities.

The course is participative in nature, giving delegates the opportunity to practice the skills they will be using.

OBJECTIVES

On completion of the course you will be able to:

- Understand the duties directly imposed by legislation.
- Understand your role in helping the organisation meet its legal duties.
- Play a practical role in reducing injuries, ill-health and damage to the environment.
- Act as a key component in EHS communication.
