

Strategic Leadership Skills for Safety Professionals

CARDINUS RISK MANAGEMENT LIMITED

tel: 020 7469 0200 fax: 0844 338 8589

web: www.cardinus.com email: info@cardinus.com

Background

While safety professionals have the knowledge and skills for managing health and safety itself, this mostly focuses on management at an operational level within an organisation. However, as we move toward an era when health and safety becomes integrated into business strategy practitioners will increasingly need to be familiar with the strategic aspects of how their employer runs the business.

This programme has been developed to introduce qualified health and safety practitioners to the skills involved in business planning so that they can ensure that their health and safety management systems complement the way the business is managed and that they have the skills to gain commitment from senior management.

Throughout the programme participants will identify issues where they require to take action back at their companies and will develop this into a personal action plan.

OBJECTIVES

On completion of the programme you will be able to:

- Understand the principles of organisational structures and how they are implemented in your business
- Understand the principles underlying strategic business planning
- Appreciate the key requirements for a leadership role
- Play an active role in integrating health and safety management into the organisational strategy
- More effectively champion health and safety at a corporate level

TOPICS COVERED

The programmes will cover the following topics:

- Organisational structure
- Strategic planning
- Health and safety leadership
- Change management
- Communication
- Using influencing skills
- Decision making and problem solving
- Financial planning
- Project management
- Action planning
- Developing a personal action plan

Participants will be required to take a written examination at the conclusion of the programme.

DURATION

The programme will last 5 days.

COST

Please contact Cardinus for a quote.